

Completion tracking is a feature in Content that allows students to see their progress in completing their coursework. It is well-suited for online and hybrid courses. If you use completion tracking, students will see progress indicators when viewing Content. They will see green checks for topics and modules they've completed, gray circles for topics they have not yet completed, a progress bar for progress within a module, and a progress bar for overall course progress when they view the table of contents.

Completion tracking is a feature of Content. From any page in your course, click Completion Tracking in the course navigation bar.

3. Click the progress bar in the Content column for the student whose individual progress you want to view (Figure 6). The progress completion bar for each module will display the student's overall progress for all topics in the module.
4. Click the link below each module's progress bar to view progress statistics for the topics in that module.
