What Should You Do If You or Someone You Know Has Experienced Sexual Harassment at Western New England University?

What is Title IX?

Title IX of the Education Amendment of 1972 ("Title IX"), is a federal civil rights law. It prohibits discrimi nation on the basis of sex in educational programs and activities. Sex discrimination encompasses all forms of sexual harassment by or against students, employees, visitors, minors, or any other persons having dealings with the University.

University Nondiscrimination Policy

Western New England University is committed to the principle of equal opportunity in education and employment. The University does not discriminate on the basis of sex, race, color, creed, national origin, age, religion, sexual orientation, genetics, gender identity, gender expression, veteran status, or disability in admission to, access to, treatment in, or employment in its programs and activities. ### Who Can I Talk To?

Students should tell someone who can help, such as faculty members, public safety o cers, an advisor, coach, or sta member. Employees should speak to supervisors, human resources personnel, or a vice president.

Western New England University is committed to cre ating a safe environment in which to learn and work. Any report of sexual harassment is taken seriously. Any community member should report sexual mis conduct to the Title IX Coordinator or Deputy Title IX Coordinators; employees who are not designated as Con dential may be required to do so. Sexual harassment is de ned as:

- Any instance of quid pro quo harassment or "this for that" harassment
- Any unwelcome conduct that a reasonable person would nd so severe, pervasive, and objectively o ensive that it denies a person equal educational access
- Any instance of sexual assault, dating violence, domestic violence, or stalking that is prohibited by Title IX

This type of behavior is not tolerated at Western New England University. If you or someone you know has experienced any form of sexual harass ment, you are encouraged to report the incident and seek assistance.

What is Consent?

E ective consent means that a person is able to make free, informed, and reasonable choices without the impairment of alcohol, drugs, disability, or fear.

- Consent is e ective when it has been clearly communicated.
- Consent can never occur if a person is unconscious, unaware, or otherwise physically helpless.
- Consent can be rescinded at any time.
- Sexual behavior without e ective consent can lead to discipline for sexual misconduct, sexual assault, and/or sexual harassment.

Making a Report

While the con dentiality of a report to the Univer sity cannot be guaranteed, the University and Title IX Coordinator will work to maintain privacy to the extent possible under the law. Employees are required to share information that they learn about alleged instances of sexual harassment with the Title IX Coordinator. During the grievance process, the Title IX Coordinator will share relevant information with the parties, and will share information with administrators on a need-to-know basis. Community members who wish to discuss reporting options and resources on a con dential basis should contact the Con dential Resource Provider or another Con dential Employee.

The University has designated two individuals on campus as CRPs:

Lauren Danserea Director of Medical Services/ Nurse Practitioner, Center for Sciences and Pharma cy, Room 235, 413-796-2308, lauren.dansereau@wne edu.

Ryan Berthiaumd icensed Sta Mental Health Counselor/Athletics Specialist, Center for Sciences and Pharmacy, Room 241, 413-796-2385, ryan.berthiaume@wne.edu

Be Proactive

Western New England strives to provide a learning and living environment that is welcoming to all-com munity members. If you have experienced unwanted, o ensive, or inappropriate behavior, we encourage you to report it to the Title IX Coordinator. The Univer sity will review each report to determine if there is imminent danger or if we need to alert others. We then conduct an investigation in which we determine if it is more likely than not that a Sexual Harassment/ Title IX violation has occurred. The outcome of the investigation determines if an educational conduct review will take place.
